WAR CLOUD IS DARKENING EUROPE

Servia's Demand on Bulgaria as to Territorial Lines Is Near Ultimatum

BULGARIA AND GREECE MAINTAIN STATE OF WAR

Vast Explosion May Result and Involve Europe; Bulgaria Will Stand Pat

LONDON, May 27.—War more serious than the menace arising from the Balkan-Turkish struggle threatens Europe as a result of schisms practically disintegrating the Balkan alliance, according to the belief of diplomats and others prominent here.

Servia's demand on Bulgaria for the rectification of their agreement on territorial matters is regarded as virtually an ultimatum. Bulgaria and Greece are maintaining a virtual state of war about Saloniki and it is believed Servia and Greece have perfected a secret agreement against Bulgaria to prosecute their wishes. Explosion of vast consequences may result.

Premier Danoff of Bulgaria, who is here for the peace conference, says the situation is intolerable; that Bulgaria will not yield to the demands of either Greece or Servia. It is regarded as certain that the Bulgarian cabinet will reject the demands of Servia for the cession of territory captured in the recent Balkan-Turkish war.

SERVIAN MISTER TROOPS FOR EXPECTED WAR WITH BULGARIA
VIENNA, May 27.—Eighty thousand troops have marched to quarters near Sofia, while others are hurrying to the capital. Dispatches today state that Bulgaria regards war with Servia as unavoidable as a result of Servia's demands for territory won in the Turkish war. It is expected that Bulgaria will flatly reject the Servian proposals, virtually inviting war.

Situation Dangerous
LONDON, May 27.—Servia has thrown off the mask and addressed to the Bulgarian government a demand couched in terms of an ultimatum for a revision of the treaty of alliance between the countries. This means Servia refuses to admit indebtedness to Bulgaria whose troops broke the force of the Turkish attack in Thrace, thereby enormously simplifying the task of the Servian and Greek forces in Macedonia. Servia demands for the aid she lent Bulgaria at Adrianople and Chataldja compensation in the shape of the territory she occupied in Macedonia, but by previous agreement was allotted to Bulgaria. The formal annexation of this territory by Servia is believed imminent.

Asks Russia to Intervene
The Bulgarian government, it is stated, has formally invited Russia to enter into the role of arbitrator, which she accepted more than a year ago. The Russian government has replied she is ready to abide by her promise provided the two parties are ready to submit to its verdict and the Balkan alliance remains intact. To both these conditions Bulgaria has consented although neither of them was stipulated when Russia was first approached. All eyes will now be turned towards St. Petersburg.

LONG BEACH, May 27.—The county grand jury arrived today to inspect the municipal auditorium, a portion of which so disastrously collapsed last Saturday. It is not known whether the jury will give a formal consideration to fix the responsibility at present or hold the evidence taken today until later. Experts appointed by the cities of Long Beach and Los Angeles, and the British Order of the Sons of St. George will inspect the ruins tomorrow. On Thursday the coroner's jury will resume the inquest. The condition of those in the hospitals is satisfactory today. It is believed the remainder of the injured will recover.

Powell Makes Final Plea; Wins Flat Rate But Fails to Get Higher Duty
Juryman Chosen by 11 O'Clock Last Night—Practically All Laborers

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Elimination of the package rate, leaving a flat lemon duty of one-half cent per pound, is now practically a certainty. The fight for free lemons, which was carried from the House to the Senate by the New York importers, has apparently been lost.

Senators who have been swayed by the free lemon propaganda during the last week, have cautiously sounded the House leaders with a view of learning whether or not the House would accept free lemons. They were told that the one-half cent rate must stand, and with this report, the fight against the California growers has ended, leaving the duty as it was fixed by the ways and means committee.

Powell Makes Final Plea
A final plea for the California industry was made yesterday before the Senate finance sub-committee by G. Harold Powell. He succeeded in convincing the members that the package rate, as fixed in the Underwood bill, is complicated and unnecessary, and he was practically assured that the sub-committee will recommend a flat half-cent rate.

While there is no hope of securing a higher duty, by way of good measure, Mr. Powell today added to his former arguments and briefs by showing that it is inequitable to place oranges and lemons on the same duty basis, on account of the greater cost in producing and handling lemons.

DEBS WILL MAKE EUROPEAN TOUR

Will Attend Socialist Congress; Returning, Will Tour Every State in Union

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 27.—Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for President of the United States, today announced positively that he will attend the International Socialist Congress in Vienna in August. It will be Debs' first visit to Europe. The American Socialist leader said today that he will tour Australia and New Zealand after the Vienna congress adjourns before returning to this country for a speaking tour that will include every state in the Union. Debs will make the Australia and New Zealand tours on formal invitations from the labor parties of those countries. It was not until the dismissal of the cases against Debs and other officers of the Appeal to Reason, the Socialist weekly, on Attorney General McKendall's order that he was free to decide on a European tour.

CHINA MAY HAVE NEW REVOLUTION

Peking Advises Say Late Edict May Split New Republic of China in Twain

LONDON, May 27.—A new revolution in China, with the possibility of the republic being split in two parts, is predicted by today's dispatches to the Daily Telegraph from its Peking correspondent. The dispatches say a new edict to be circulated this week by President Yuan setting up a constitutional government for North China may cause a revolt. The north still demands the old monarchy while the south favors provincial autonomy under central parliamentary control.

CURRENCY REFORM IS THEME FOR TODAY'S CABINET MEETING

Administration Measure to go to Congress Next Week—Senate Committee Probing Nation's Currency

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Currency reform and the personnel of the new industrial commission were the principal matters discussed at today's cabinet meeting. No agreement on a complete currency bill was reached, but it is expected an administration measure will be introduced in Congress next week. President Wilson was scheduled to confer tonight with Representative Glass, chairman of the House banking committee, and later with the Senate banking committee. He wants general support of the bill when it is introduced.

Industrial commission nominations are expected to be sent to the Senate later in the week.

SENATE BEGINS PROBE OF NATION'S CURRENCY SYSTEM
WASHINGTON, May 27.—The Senate banking and currency committee began its investigation of the nation's currency system, and how its defects should be remedied, late yesterday, when a list of questions to be sent to bankers and financial experts was approved and prepared for immediate distribution.

Senator Nelson, Republican member of the Senate committee on banking and currency, introduced a bill yesterday proposing a system of asset-secured currency for national banks, under which the banks of the country could, if necessary, issue emergency currency to the total amount of $295,000,000. The bill would give banks authority to issue the new notes to an amount not greater than the difference between their present bond-secured currency and their total paid-in capital. The new notes would constitute a "first and preferred lien" upon all of the assets of the bank by which they were issued.

FRIEDMANN CURE INITIATIVES ARE DENOUNCED STRONGLY

Dr. O'Connell, Port Health Officer, Declares It "Dangerous and Cruel Fraud"

NEW YORK, May 27.—Charging that Dr. Franz Frederick Friedmann's treatment of tuberculosis "accelerates rather than retards progress of the disease," Dr. Jos. J. O'Connell, health officer for port of New York, in a letter to Health Commissioner Lederlin has asked to submit a resolution at the next meeting of the board of health prohibiting the administration of the Friedmann treatment in New York. "The investigator for your department finds," the letter said, "that patients subjected to Friedmann's treatment have not improved but have lost ground to an extent greater than might be expected from the natural ravages of the disease. It seems to me that it would be culpable for us to hesitate longer, and that our duty now is to insist upon such a regulation and supervision of this enterprise as shall prevent the perpetration on the public of a dangerous and cruel fraud."

LOS ANGELES TO HAVE LOWER LIGHT AND POWER RATES

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—The city council, at the conclusion of a public hearing yesterday afternoon, denied all protests and sustained the electric light and power rates, as fixed by the board of public utilities, for the fiscal year commencing June 1. This action means that the electric light rate, commencing July 1, will be reduced from 6½ cents to 6 cents and the power rate from 6 cents to 5 cents, for the first 100 kilowatt hours consumed in one month.

It means also that approximately 74,000 light and power consumers will be benefited by the reduction and that these consumers will save about $200,000 a year, according to the estimate of officials of the utilities department.

80 LABOR OFFICES OPPOSING ARMY PLAN SEIZED IN PARIS

Death of Boy at Orange Results In Inspection of Gasoline Storage

TRUSTEES AND MARSHAL INSPECT

Four Places Notified to Change Their Method of Handling the Stuff

ORANGE, May 27.—As the result of the accident Saturday night which caused the death of Bert Claypool, aged 15, the Orange city trustees will pass an ordinance putting stringent restrictions upon methods of handling gasoline.

Claypool was burned by gasoline. A motorcycle tank was being filled at night while the engine was hot and the lamp of the motorcycle was lighted. When the gasoline caught fire an attempt was made to throw the blazing can out of a door, and Claypool was covered with the fire.

City Marshal Warner yesterday made a trip of inspection over the city, and found that about 1760 gallons of gasoline are stored in various places among garages and stores. He found four places where he thought the method of handling gasoline was very unsafe. One big tank sets beside an alley where any passer-by might throw a lighted cigar stub.

Today the trustees inspected the places reported by Warner, and notified the proprietors to make changes immediately, stating to them that an ordinance is being framed to regulate the handling of gasoline.

HEROES OF SOUTH POLE TO REST IN ANTARCTIC CIRCLE

LONDON, May 27.—No effort is to be made to disturb the body of Capt. Robert F. Scott, nor those of the heroes who died with him while returning from the expedition to the South Pole.

Lord Curzon made this announcement today at the annual meeting of the Royal Geographical Society when the society's medal were presented to the widows of Capt. Scott and Dr. Edward A. Wilson, and to the surviving members of the expedition.

The relatives of the dead men had expressed the unanimous desire that the recovery of the bodies never should be attempted.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—The national convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen resumed its session today with a promise for the discussion before night of the proposition for a national workmen's compensation bill. GAVE McLAUGHRY POSSESSION OF TWO TOTS WARRED OVER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—The issue between Hull McLaughry and his wife, Anita, daughter of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, is one of fact, ruled Judge Seawell in the superior court yesterday, and accordingly, until the issue is decided, the two children of the marriage, Dextra and Baldwin, will remain in the custody of the father, who has them now. The case was postponed today and may be postponed again tomorrow.

Both parents seek possession of the children, who were produced today in court on an order granted to the mother. For some weeks they have been kept under surveillance at their father's ranch at Galt.

CARNEGIE HERO MEDALS AWARDED BY COMMISSION TO WALKER AND SNARE

The heroism of Percy Walker, who lost his life trying to save A. B. Hendrickson of Santa Ana, and G. W. T. Snare, who dragged Walker from the icy water though too late to save Walker's life, have been recognized by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission. To Walker's family there was awarded a silver medal and $50 a month for the support of the widow during her life or until she remarries, with $5 a month additional for each of two children until each reaches the age of 16. To Snare a bronze medal is awarded for his bravery and self-sacrifice.

Hendrickson was well known in Santa Ana, where for a number of years before his death he was in the automobile business. He was on a vacation trip at Keen Camp, on Lake Hemet, when he was drowned.

The report of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission relates the story of the tragedy as follows:

Percy Walker, aged forty-five, hotel proprietor, died attempting to save Abram B. Hendrickson, aged thirty-one, automobile agent, from drowning. Keen Camp, Cal., February 29, 1912. Hendrickson was in a canoe on Lake Hemet, five hundred feet from the bank, when the canoe upset and he fell into deep, icy water. Walker, who suffered from heart trouble, undressed and swam toward Hendrickson towing a log, but when he was forty feet from Hendrickson the latter sank and was drowned. Walker swam to the canoe, and tried to locate Hendrickson but was unable to do so. He clung to the log and called to men on the bank for assistance. He was benumbed. Because of its temperature, none dared enter the water. Walker had drifted an hour, when his head fell back and he died, as a result of the exposure. His body was taken to the bank within a short time, and Hendrickson's body was recovered eight days later.

George W. T. Snare, aged twenty-nine, attempted to save Percy Walker from drowning. Keen Camp, Cal., February 29, 1912. Snare was on an island, and he watched Walker as he swam to Hendrickson's aid. When he saw Walker was becoming benumbed, he removed all of his clothes, and waded and swam to a stump, where he stood for twenty minutes in the cold wind until Walker reached a point one hundred and ninety feet from the island. At this time Walker's head fell back, and, thinking he was only unconscious, Snare dove and swam to him. He supported Walker's head above the surface, and, with the log, swam two hundred feet to a point where he could stand, and then dragged Walker to land. Snare was almost crazed with pain and chills for a few minutes, and the chills lasted three days.

U. S. MAY FORECLOSE
Rep. Neeley of Kansas Asks President to Recover 100-Mile Strip
R. R. Belonging to M. P.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Representative Neeley of Kansas has asked President Wilson to direct Attorney General McReynolds to foreclose a mortgage on a 100-mile of railroad owned by the Missouri Pacific between Atchison and Waterville, Kas., to recover $4,500,000 alleged to be due the government from aid by bonds issued in 1862.

Mr. Neeley has a resolution in Congress to the same effect, but believes if he can interest the President it would be unnecessary to wait for action on the resolution. Mr. Wilson promised to study the question.

MAJOR MURPHY ON WAY FROM PARIS TO AID MRS. MERRIAM
SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—Two cablegrams from Major Clarence H. Murphy, member of the staff of the governor of Louisiana, saying that he was hurrying from Paris to this city to testify in the divorce suit of Captain Henry C. Merriam against Bessie C. Merriam, were read in Judge Graham's court yesterday when the trial was resumed.

The cablegrams were in support of a motion by Mrs. Merriam's attorneys to have the case continued one month

PROTECT SEAL AND SEA LION

County Passes an Ordinance
Prohibiting Capture; Board
Lets Contracts

It is now unlawful to "wound, maim, take, capture, cripple or shoot" or seining or otherwise any seal or sea lion within the jurisdiction of Orange county. An ordinance to that effect was adopted by the Board of Supervisors yesterday afternoon and is now in effect.

It is only occasionally that seals are found on the Orange county coast. Recently two or three young seals have been captured and taken into Newport Beach.

The penalty for violation of the ordinance is a fine of not over $200, sentence to jail for not over ninety days, or both fine and imprisonment.

Contracts Let
The supervisors let three contracts in accordance with the recommendation of the Highway Commission, except that in the contract for a crusher a different grade crusher was agreed upon. The Riverside Portland Cement Co. secured the contract for 100,000 barrels of cement at $1.35 per barrel. H. Shipkey of Orange was given the contract for erecting storage bins. The Austin Western Machinery Co. got the contract for the rock crusher.

Other Matters
Bids are to be received June 4 for building an oil storage tank at the courthouse. The surveyor and district attorney were instructed to take whatever steps are necessary to clear title to West Fifth street so that county good roads work may begin upon it. Petitions to lay water pipes across county roads were granted three petitions, H. L. Van Hise, J. E. Brown and M. Witt. The petition of C. O. Field for a road was granted.

A contract was let to C. M. Jordan for building a stairway, from the auditor's office to the basement and for other alterations in the auditor's office.

Supervisor Strack was appointed a committee to buy a horse, survey and harness for use at the county hospital.

Asks for Bids
At the request of the Highway Commission, the Board of Supervisors ordered that bids be advertised for 3000 tons of crushed rock, 20,000 tons of gravel and 20,000 tons of sand, to be delivered on the tracks of the Santa Fe or Pacific Electric. The county's crusher will be located on the Southern Pacific. Owing to high freighting charges and additional freight rates, the board is satisfied that in some parts of the county material can be bought from outside crushers and shipped to the point of usage for less than it can be produced for and shipped by the county on some line other than the S. P. Bids will be opened on June 17. The board adjourned to June 3.

Cole, riding a bicycle, was going south on Main on the right side of the street. He had no chance to more than escape the auto truck, the bicycle being smashed.

MARCH

According to statistics compiled by the Bureau of Railway Economics, for the month of March the operating income per mile of line decreased 31.3 per cent for the railways of the east, increased 6.6 per cent for the railways of the south and increased 9.4 per cent for the railways of the west as compared with March, 1912. The average for the railways of the entire country decreased 9.9 per cent.

This operating income for the 222,086 miles of line summarized by the Bureau of Railway Economics from the reports of the railways to the Interstate Commerce Commission aggregated for the month $52,137,897, or $235 per mile of line, which is equivalent to $7.57 per mile of line per day. Operating income is that portion of their receipts which remains available to the railways for rentals, interest on bonds, appropriations for betterments, improvements, new construction and for dividends.

The aggregate of the total operating revenues for the month was $241,048,818, an increase of $9,864,272 over March, 1912. The operating expenses were $178,234,167, or $14,104,236 more than for March, 1912. The net operating revenue was $62,814,651, or $4,239,964 less than for March, 1912. Taxes were $10,418,258, an increase of 7.7 per cent per mile of line over March, 1912, leaving the operating income 9.9 per cent less per mile of line as stated.

THE RIGHT POINT OF VIEW

The proper way of looking at the expense of new boards and commissions created by the legislature, and absolutely necessary in the conduct of a state that is now being run on humanitarian as well as business principles, is not to figure up alone what they cost, but to compute carefully what they save over what they cost.

The San Francisco Chronicle made the same wall that it is now emitting, over the expense to the taxpayers of California of the State Board of Control, created two years ago. And yet the same berated board already has saved hundreds of thousands of dollars to the state.

In the palmy days of machine rule, when boards and commissions were established for the purpose of providing food and shelter and raiment for superannuated party hacks, did anybody ever hear of the San Francisco Chronicle, like Niole all tears, weeping over the woes of the taxpayers? The "gang" could steal the paint from the State Capitol building for all the Chronicle cared, or for all it would protest.

But when money is about to be spent for the necessities and humanities of government—money which will be returned manifold in great savings which will be effected for the taxpayers—then the Chronicle wails and will not be comforted.

THE COLLEGE FRATERNITY PROBLEM

The attempt to reform Yale college's famous "Tap day" has been watched with interest by educators all over the country, as an effort for standards other than popularity.

Every college world has men of a very facile social grace who can adapt themselves to any social set. At the Y. M. C. A. they sit with earnest faces—probably thinking how they can pass the exams with the least possible work. "Down where the Wurzburger flows," they are the first to pound the table for more, the last to "beat it" for home.

They have a ready speech and agility of mind that make them leaders. They get committee appointments away from fellows who are more methodical, better stayers. As this type is always close to the footlights in the grown-up world, it is natural enough that it should find many fraternity portals swinging easily at its knock.

Now if, as Dean Jones of Yale maintains, the selections this year were on a basis of solid merit, there can be little complaint. "To him that hath shall be given." For every winner there must always be a group of losers, who miss not merely the prize they coveted, but the unseen opportunity that the prize brings.

The problem for college authorities is how to provide the chance for social growth of another type, reticent and slower-gearred fellows. These men pass as stupid and phlegmatic. While they are striving to phrase precisely the inmost truth of the moment, some more slippery tongue gets the start of them and the gracefully told half-

THE WORLD'S MOST MENACING PROBLEM

(From Collier's Weekly)

The question involved in the California anti-alien land law is not for today alone. It is for generations to come. It is not a Japanese question alone. It is a Chinese question, a Hindu question, a Korean question, a Syrian and Armenian question. It is not a matter of the United States alone. It is a Canadian question an Australian question, a South American question, a Mexican question, a South African question, a New Zealand question.

It is a world question. It is a problem for all time.

It is the local outcropping of the greatest of world problems—the problem of the intermingling of races.

It cannot be settled on the narrow basis of any treaty with Japan, nor on the local basis of opinion in California, nor the feelings of the people of all the states on the Pacific coast.

It ought not to be adjusted by the people of the United States in ignorance, nor prejudice, nor with reference to political passions, nor the demand for cheap labor.

It cannot be lightly slighted off. It is an irrepressible struggle. It will persist for ages. Its complexities and its menace are bound to become nearer and more menacing as every invention in transportation and every advance in commerce brings white men and brown men and yellow men into closer and closer contact with each other.

There are certain principles of right and wrong which enter into it. These must be studied. They should be kept in mind.

Let us consider the attitude of Japan in the premises. The Japanese are a fine and strong people. They are very proud, just as we are very proud. They have just as much reason to be proud as we have. They have a very ancient and splendid civilization. They are poets and artists and scientists. They have a fine system of ethics, and some virtues which they can teach us. In patriotism, in enterprise, in efficiency, all along the line of modern life, they compare favorably with all other peoples. They are not inferior to us—let that be admitted at the outset. So long as we act with reference to them on the theory that they are inferior, we shall be in the wrong. They think themselves superior to us. We think ourselves superior to them. That is the natural attitude of the mass of the people of every land. But in the last analysis the Japanese will be entitled to the verdict that they are just as able, just as efficient, and just as good as we are.

2—The Necessity For Homogeneity In a Democracy

What reason can we find then, for making laws which will tend to keep the Japanese out? Let us see what our destiny is and how it must be worked out, determine what our problems are, and see what effect the incoming of the Orientals would have on our affairs.

We of the great Caucasian nations, especially the English-speaking nations, have unreservedly committed ourselves to the theory of democracy. We are more and more accepting democracy as the natural order of things. We have very dreadful problems to work out through the instrument of the ballot. The ballot rests on equality of rights, of more or less common views and common interests among the people. Voting is a species of conference. Minds meet and settle questions in elections no less than in town meetings.

A democracy is a people who reason together and express their decisions by their votes. If they do not speak the same language, if there exists a great body of matters on which they cannot come to a mutual understanding, if the mental gap between great factions among them is too great to be bridged, if for any reason there exists any irreconcilable antagonism among them, if great bodies of them are in economic warfare, the democracy cannot exist.

That is why we are already in such deep difficulties with our democracy. We have many antagonistic classes. We have trying times ahead. It is sure to be hard for us to weather the storms which these problems will generate. The labor question, the trust question, the growing problem of farm tenantry, the amalgamation of the millions of European immigrants, the redemption of our backward population in the Appalachian mountains—all these are hard things to solve.

But the people of our own antagonistic classes look alike and feel alike toward each other under like circumstances. They can and do mix. Remove the reasons for enmity, and the enmity vanishes. Nobody can tell a Northerner from a Southerner, or a Bohemian from a Scotchman, or truth gets the hand clapping. Probably one of the finest services performed by college athletics is the chance they give this type of men. Though polite and symmetrical phrases may come hard to them, they may have the patience and grit to learn to hit the ball. All college gates fall before the man who can do that!

Editorial Edibles

Dr. Friedmann's tuberculosis serum sounds more like a turtle (fish) story every day.

As a peacemaker Mr. Bryan did not carry a sufficiently thick and heavy olive branch.

We like Mr. Bryan better than ever since he undertook that unpleasant task at Sacramento and did his duty the progeny of an old New York anti-renter from the descendant of a patron, or a whisky insurrectionist's progeny from the descendant of a soldier sent to put down the insurrection, so far as looks are concerned. After all, our contending forces, except for the negro, belong to the same basic race, and are unable to tell each other apart in a few years after any struggle takes place. They have more intellectual and spiritual similarities than they have of any sort of differences. They mix.

3—The Presence of the Jap Is Inconsistent With Democracy

It is different with the Oriental. His color sets him off from the rest of us so far as to make of him a marked man. It may be urged that this ought not to make any difference, that a man is a man, no matter what the tint of his skin. Granted—but this is a democracy, and people must be taken as they are. We cannot fraternize with colored peoples as we do with each other. They feel just as we do about it. We cannot do the business of a democracy with people so strongly set off from us in racial character. Their presence among us in great numbers raises the most explosive questions—questions of sex, marriage, school life, church life, business life, traveling problems, questions of all sorts of mingling. Perhaps these questions ought not to come up, but to urge THAT is silly—they WILL come up.

The nation—every nation—must keep out peoples whose presence will complicate this matter of democratic solidarity. They must be kept out, not because they are inferior, but in many cases because they are so different. For these reasons California is right in her effort to keep out the Japanese. For similar reasons the Japanese are right in all the laws they may have enacted, or may enact, to prevent the domestication of large numbers of Americans there. They can vote us out of their club with perfect propriety. We can and must vote them out of our club. They are not clubbable with the great masses of the greatest Caucasian club in the world, the United States.

4—We Must Exclude Any Race Which We Cannot Assimilate

The Japanese are not pioneers. If they were they could find a great deal of new land in the northern island of their own empire, in Sakhalin, and in Manchuria. But they are not pioneers. They prefer tense competition with men in settled countries to the competition with nature in new lands. So they like to emigrate to established societies, like that of California. In these societies they can compete successfully with anyone. Their presence here, therefore, sets up an economic strife which is emphasized and embittered by their racial dissimilarity to us. If they came here only as they became emigrants of the American people, the American flag, and the Caucasian civilization, we might say to all: "Welcome!"

But they do not so come. They do not like us any better than we like them. They do not understand us any better than we understand them. They cling to whatever differences there may be between their moral standards and ours. They see the many respects in which they are our superiors, and fail to understand or appreciate the many respects in which we are their superiors. They do not mix. They are hurled into our midst like javelins by the explosive force of their poverty. This is a fundamental objection to their domestication among us as their marked difference in looks.

Their presence among us in large numbers would raise a race issue far worse than the negro problem. For while the negro and the white have failed to co-operate in working out our problem of democracy, while we have great difficulty in being just to the negro, and while the negro problem is recognized as our greatest one, it would be worse if the negroes were Japanese. For the negroes have no home government to which they can appeal—a government armed and inspired with the fine race pride of the Japanese. If Santo Domingo and Haiti contained fifty millions of well-organized negroes, our present race question would be one of war.

We must not have war with Japan or China or a freed and independent Hindustan. Therefore we must settle this matter now before it is too late. We must settle it now on the basis of our right to exclude any peoples whom we do not think we can take into our work of perfecting democracy. We must settle it before an alien nation is established in our midst—a nation of marked people, proud of their race, and ready to appeal to their ancient and powerful empire for aid in every quarrel with us. Half a million Japanese in this country would embroil us in war with Japan within half a decade. Let us stop the influx while the numbers are small and their interests still capable of being adjusted.

to the best of his ability without losing his temper.

Going fishing is still the popular treatment for spring fever.

Maybe the Japanese will now commit—oh, what is it they commit whenever they are peeved?

Maybe California thought that Mr. Bryan was delivering one of his chau-tauqua talks.

There is also a mining interest for the Chicago gardener. He uncovers many curious mementos of an earlier civilization.

One sporting writer says that it is now anybody's pennant. But from the claims put forward by the various baseball managers we are led to believe that it is everybody's pennant.

A GOOD PLACE TO STAY AWAY FROM

It is customary among owners of automobiles to draw attention to any nice drives any of them may have discovered, and I don't believe there is a locality in California that offers more pleasant drives than we have here in Orange county.

I am now going to vary the custom by calling attention to a good place to avoid, and this drive is the drive to Modjeska's mountain home. I do this, not on account of any changes in the road or any other natural conditions, for the drive up the Santiago canyon is beautiful, the road is good and everything combines to make this an ideal drive, except the change of ownership of the Modjeska property.

I drove a party of ladies there on Saturday; all were anxious to see the place and especially one lady from the East. The name "Modjeska" adds very much to the attraction of the place. When we arrived near the entrance we found a gate placed across the road with the sign "No Admittance" placed on it. In addition to this there is an old bridge, which spans a stream of water which has to be crossed in order to get into the grounds. On this old bridge was an old gate closed and locked with an old chain and a padlock. The padlock was the only modern thing in sight. When we arrived at the "No Admittance" gate the keeper of the place appeared and I asked permission to go through the grounds, which was promptly refused. I stated that we had one lady in the party who was from the East who was very anxious to see the Modjeska home and had come from Santa Ana on purpose to see it. His reply was that they, meaning the present owners—an Arden Country Club—had not invited the lady and were under no obligations to entertain her. I then asked permission to drive through the gate in order to turn around as the approach was too narrow to do this and was told as I had gotten this far I must see how to get back.

myself as they certainly would not allow outsiders to pass through this gate. So I had to back out in order to get back home.

The keeper volunteered the information that visitors had picked flowers in the grounds and one vile sinner had gone so far as to pull up a shrub, that for this reason the common herd was to be kept out. I assured him that we had no intention of stealing his flowers or shrubs and offered to give bonds for our good behavior, but all to no avail. He cutting off further argument by the statement that we had not been invited and that our absence would be more satisfactory than our presence. Under these circumstances we absented ourselves and returned a sadder but wiser party.

This is the reason we think this a good place to stay away from. The keeper told me that his instructions were to keep out everyone.

I want to congratulate the Arden Club upon their selection of keeper; he certainly is a "Jim Dandy" about obeying his instructions and making them plain to all comers. In contrast with this is the action of Mr. David Hewes in building and maintaining that beauty spot—Hewes Park.

The people of Orange county are certainly indebted to Mr. Hewes for his public spirit and generosity. It has cost thousands of dollars to establish this and costs thousands of dollars to keep it up. There is not a place in Orange county that is visited by so many people as is this park. I have taken a number of people there this spring, many of them tourists who had seen the well known beauty spots in California, and they all claim it as fine a display, for its size, as there is in the state. And this is absolutely free for everyone to enjoy, in marked contrast with the contemptibly small spirit shown by the present owners of the Modjeska property.

I suggest that every Chamber of Commerce in Orange county pass a resolution of thanks to David Hewes for maintaining and throwing open for public use that beauty spot of Orange county—"Hewes Park."

DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION

Members of Congregation of U. P. Church Honored Miss Lena Brotherton Last Night

Miss Lena Brotherton, who has been a missionary to India for several years under the auspices and aid of the congregation of the United Presbyterian Church of this city, was the guest of honor at a reception given for her last evening in the parlors and auditorium of the church. The affair was most successful in every respect and was attended by probably two hundred or more people. The church, always attractive, was made more beautiful for the event with flowers and greenery.

The first part of the evening was given to a musical program in which four or more numbers were given by Prof. Elmer's orchestra, recently organized. Those in the orchestra, which made a most pleasing impression with its instrumental work, are Prof. A. J. Elmer, Prof. Ady, J. C. Stearns and Miss Hattie Basler, the latter being the pianist. The orchestra was aided in one or two numbers by Harry Warner on the piano organ. Mr. Warner and his accomplished wife very pleasingly gave a piano duet and Mrs. J. C. Stearns made her first appearance before this church as a soloist, singing in a way to gratify her hearers. Prof. Elmer played a violin obligato for Mrs. Stearns' solo. An encore was demanded of Mrs. Stearns who responded obligingly.

Miss Brotherton's address, given informally to her audience, was the feature of the evening. She took her hearers with her in a tour of missions in India supported by the United Presbyterians. She told them the names of the various devoted missionaries and their splendid work. Two little girls in native costumes aided her in her portrayal of the customs and religions of the people among whom the missionaries labor. Miss Brotherton sang two songs in Indian dialect during the evening, greatly to the interest of the listeners.

Following the program an informal reception was held in the parlors where Miss Brotherton greeted all those who came by word of cheer in her work in far-off India. The hour was one of true and genuine sociability and fellowship. It was ended by adjournment to the dining room where ice cream, cake and coffee were served to the large and happy company.

A Birthday Party

Twenty-one little guests, all of whom were girls, gathered at the A. R. Hervey home on Spurgeon street and Washington avenue Saturday afternoon to celebrate the fifth birthday of Helen Hervey.

Instead of the usual birthday presents, each little girl brought a bouquet of flowers which she presented to the honoree. At the conclusion of a merry flower game played on the lawn, each guest wove for herself a chain of the flowers.

Later, refreshments were served in the dining room where a long table

EBELL MUSIC SECTION

Delightful Musicales Ends Season—Brilliant Program Given

Last night the members of the Music Section of the Ebell Club held their final meeting of the present season, and as usual it was in the form of a reception-musical, proving to be a note-worthy event. The affair was given at the home of Mrs. H. G. Hull on North Main street. The house, which is spacious and beautiful in itself, was most tastefully decorated with flowers and ferns and combined with the bright faces and beautiful gowns of those who came to enjoy the evening, made a picture that was a pleasure to look upon.

Mrs. Hull and Miss Charlotte Dresser received each member and guest at the door with cordial welcome and shortly after eight o'clock the house was comfortably filled. The program of the evening was under the supervision of Mrs. Ella I. Fyfe and proved to be one of the best of the Ebell series. The musical numbers, in the order in which they were given were as follows:

Ladies' quartette, "Primrose" (Impromptu), and "Mammy's Lullaby" (Jaminson), Mrs. Ella I. Fyfe, first soprano; Mrs. Carl Strock, second soprano; Miss Marie Y. Havens, alto, and Mrs. Fred Rafferty, contralto.

Piano solo, "Blue Danube" (Ara-besque) (Schultz-Evler), Mrs. Arnold Peek, Mrs. Peek played "The Prophet Bird" by Schumann as an encore.

Tenor solo, two Indian songs, "The White Dove is Stealing," and "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water" (Cadman), Mr. Alan A. Revell. Mr. Revell's encore was "Far Off I Hear My Lover's Flute."

Piano solo, "Romanza" (Schumann) and Chopin's "Revolutionary Etude," Miss Zoe Glidden. Miss Glidden played "The Cuckoo" by Arenski as an encore.

Baritone solo, "Deo Possento" from Gounod's "Faust," Mr. Lloyd Sharp. Encore, "The Dawn" by d'Hardelot.

Piano solo, Second movement of the "Tragic Sonata" by MacDowell, Mrs. Peek, who also gave as an encore MacDowell's "Murmuring Brook."

Bass solo, "The Wanderer" (Hans Hermann), Mrs. Maurice Phillips.

Ladies' Quartette, "Oh, Lovely Night" (Offenbach) and "The Shooing Shoe" (Grace May Lowe), Mrs. Fyfe, Mrs. Strock, Miss Havens and Mrs. Rafferty.

Each number on this program was well done and very much enjoyed. Mrs. Peek's piano work was full of warm tone color and in the lighter phrasing showed extreme flexibility and delicacy of touch. Miss Glidden, also, gave her numbers with marked precision and accuracy of technique, showing in her expressiveness an intelligent comprehension of the composer's ideas.

Mr. Revell sang in public last night for the first time here and his debut was an agreeable surprise. His voice is tenor, with a little of the darker quality of the baritone, which gives it a peculiar richness, the quality being soft and expressive. His enunciation is good and in the rendition of the three songs of Cadman he gave his listeners much pleasure. Lloyd Sharp and Maurice Phillips both sang well, as usual, and added much to the artistic tone of the program. The Ladies' Quartette work, which opened and closed the evening's musical treat, was very much enjoyed. Miss Charlotte Dresser, Mrs. Percy Richards and Mr. Alan A. Revill were the able accompanists for the singers.

After the musical program was completed the assembled members and guests adjourned to the dining room, where a delicious fruit punch and other good things for the "inner man" had been provided, under the able direction of Mrs. Carl Strock and the evening developed into a sort of pleasant "social." Altogether it was a most delightful occasion.

Among those present were Mesdames W. W. Crozier, Alba Padgham, H. G. Hull, Dr. Laura Betz, C. E. Parker, J. Tillotson, Ben Turner, W. A. Flood, Har Kittle, W. B. Snow, T. Bent, H. E. Flint, and Mrs. Dresser of Orange; Misses Charlotte Dresser, Nellie Sumner, Mame Y. Havens, Lida Crookshank, Zoe Glidden, Gertrude and Louise Montgomery, Hazel Rowley, Elsie Parker, Jeannette McFadden, Elsie Harrison, Sallie Catland, Amy Bent, Kassa Bailey, Fannie Smart, Katherine Edwards, Jean Humphreys and Miss Tillotson; Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Rafferty, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Lusk, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gustlin, Mr. and Mrs. Lou P. Hickox, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Benjamin, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peek; Messrs. ## EBELL MUSIC SECTION

Last night the members of the Music Section of the Ebell Club held their final meeting of the present season, and as usual it was in the form of a reception-musical, proving to be a note-worthy event. The affair was given at the home of Mrs. H. G. Hull on North Main street. The house, which is spacious and beautiful in itself, was most tastefully decorated with flowers and ferns and combined with the bright faces and beautiful gowns of those who came to enjoy the evening, made a picture that was a pleasure to look upon.

Mrs. Hull and Miss Charlotte Dresser received each member and guest at the door with cordial welcome and shortly after eight o'clock the house was comfortably filled. The program of the evening was under the supervision of Mrs. Ella I. Fyfe and proved to be one of the best of the Ebell series. The musical numbers, in the order in which they were given were as follows:

Ladies' quartette, "Primrose" (Impromptu), and "Mammy's Lullaby" (Jaminson), Mrs. Ella I. Fyfe, first soprano; Mrs. Carl Strock, second soprano; Miss Marie Y. Havens, alto, and Mrs. Fred Rafferty, contralto.

Piano solo, "Blue Danube" (Ara-besque) (Schultz-Evler), Mrs. Arnold Peek, Mrs. Peek played "The Prophet Bird" by Schumann as an encore.

Tenor solo, two Indian songs, "The White Dove is Stealing," and "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water" (Cadman), Mr. Alan A. Revill. Mr. Revell's encore was "Far Off I Hear My Lover's Flute."

Piano solo, "Romanza" (Schumann) and Chopin's "Revolutionary Etude," Miss Zoe Glidden. Miss Glidden played "The Cuckoo" by Arenski as an encore.

Baritone solo, "Deo Possento" from Gounod's "Faust," Mr. Lloyd Sharp. Encore, "The Dawn" by d'Hardelot.

Piano solo, Second movement of the "Tragic Sonata" by MacDowell, Mrs. Peek, who also gave as an encore MacDowell's "Murmuring Brook."

Bass solo, "The Wanderer" (Hans Hermann), Mrs. Maurice Phillips.

Ladies' Quartette, "Oh, Lovely Night" (Offenbach) and "The Shooing Shoe" (Grace May Lowe), Mrs. Fyfe, Mrs. Strock, Miss Havens and Mrs. Rafferty.

Each number on this program was well done and very much enjoyed. Mrs. Peek's piano work was full of warm tone color and in the lighter phrasing showed extreme flexibility and delicacy of touch. Miss Glidden, also, gave her numbers with marked precision and accuracy of technique, showing in her expressiveness an intelligent comprehension of the composer's ideas.

Mr. Revell sang in public last night for the first time here and his debut was an agreeable surprise. His voice is tenor, with a little of the darker quality of the baritone, which gives it a peculiar richness, the quality being soft and expressive. His enunciation is good and in the rendition of the three songs of Cadman he gave his listeners much pleasure. Lloyd Sharp and Maurice Phillips both sang well, as usual, and added much to the artistic tone of the program. The Ladies' Quartette work, which opened and closed the evening's musical treat, was very much enjoyed. Miss Charlotte Dresser, Mrs. Percy Richards and Mr. Alan A. Revill were the able accompanists for the singers.

After the musical program was completed the assembled members and guests adjourned to the dining room, where a delicious fruit punch and other good things for the "inner man" had been provided, under the able direction of Mrs. Carl Strock and the evening developed into a sort of pleasant "social." Altogether it was a most delightful occasion.

Among those present were Mesdames W. W. Crozier, Alba Padgham, H. G. Hull, Dr. Laura Betz, C. E. Parker, J. Tillotson, Ben Turner, W. A. Flood, Har Kittle, W. B. Snow, T. Bent, H. E. Flint, and Mrs. Dresser of Orange; Misses Charlotte Dresser, Nellie Sumner, Mame Y. Havens, Lida Crookshank, Zoe Glidden, Gertrude and Louise Montgomery, Hazel Rowley, Elsie Parker, Jeannette McFadden, Elsie Harrison, Sallie Catland, Amy Bent, Kassa Bailey, Fannie Smart, Katherine Edwards, Jean Humphreys and Miss Tillotson; Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Rafferty, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Lusk, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gustlin, Mr. and Mrs. Lou P. Hickox, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Benjamin, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peek; Messrs. Ernest Phillips, Percy Richards, Alan Revill and Maurice Phillips.

"Give Me Another of Those Manhattan Shirts"

said a customer Saturday morning. "It is the first shirt I ever had that really fits"—and when it was wrapped up he said, "Why don't you tell men about them—tell them you have a shirt that is no higher in price than these ordinary shirts, but that they will be fitted—they will get wear—and fast color fabrics—and tell them Monday."

Well—here it is. Nothing to add except to give the prices—

Board Members Dined
The Sunday school board of the First Methodist church had its usual monthly dinner and business meeting last night at the church. Dinner was served at 6:30 in the banquet room and the dining table was arranged for about forty guests, beautiful decorations rendering the scene most attractive. Sweet peas were used in the centerpiece and a striking decorative feature was a mound of Shasta daisies bordered with red carnations. Following the dinner each guest was presented with a carnation.

The business meeting after dinner was brief, and as many of those present wished to attend Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher's lecture, adjournment was made shortly after 7 o'clock.

ORANGE GROWERS CITED TO APPEAR ON INFRINGEMENT

Stabler Declares Truck Is Being Used Without His Authority

Los Angeles Tribune: Orange growers' associations to appear in court, June 6, to show cause why they should not be restrained from alleged patent infringement, were issued yesterday by Judge Williamson in the United States district court. Organizations cited are the La Habra Citrus, the LaVerne Orange Growers' and the Santiago Orange Growers' associations. The citations were issued following the filing yesterday of three suits by Fred Stabler, who charges the fruit growers' associations with infringing on a patent on a hand truck, invented by Edgar J. Bryan, who is said to have assigned his rights to Mr. Stabler.

A large crowd was present to hear the lecture, which proved to be in Dr. Brougher's most characteristic style. Excellent music was furnished by the chorus and Mr. Potts.

FINDS SYRUP MAKES EXCEL- LENT STREETS

With five sugar factories in Orange county, the use to which a sugar factory by-product has been put in Rocky Ford, Colo., should be of interest.

A dispatch from there says: "So successful have been the experiments which have been made by the superintendent of the American Beet Sugar Company with the by-product of the factory, known as beet syrup, in a strip of road near the factory, that it has been decided to close a small part of one of the city streets, round up the dirt so that it will shed water and then treat it with the material to ascertain the actual cost by the yard.

"The experiments have more than met the expectations of the superintendent, and the piece of street which has been treated shows a surface free from dust and as hard as macadam, notwithstanding the fact that the street has been in constant use every day for heavy teams. It is believed the material will prove one of the biggest ever in the market and that the cost will not be prohibitive."

"The heavy framing for the north nave of Machinery Hall is completed," said Mr. Connick, "and a substantial start on the center wing has been made. Placing of staff is already commenced.

"Five hundred thousand board feet of lumber has been received for the Palace of Education. Another week will show considerable progress in this work.

"All bids for the excavation of the Auditorium site have been rejected and the work will be advertised for shortly. Plans for the structural steel for the auditorium are in the hands of contractors and bids will be received next Thursday.

NEWSY NEWS FROM NEW YORK

(By Carlton Ten Eyck.)

NEW YORK, May 26.—No more been porridge on Tuesday? No more old fashioned New England boiled dinner on Wednesdays or soft clam sauce on Thursdays? No clam chowder on Fridays, nor turkey wings and vegetables on Saturdays? No, Mr. Broker and Mr. Wall Street clerk and Mr. and Mrs. Visitor to New York, you will get none of these things on which you have been reared, after May 29. On that day the historic Astor House will close its doors forever and become a memory, a wreath of the things that have been sacrificed to the modern idea.

The building of the new Broadway-Lexington Avenue subway to enable Mr. Wall Street to get down to his office with more speed, did for his luncheon place. It was necessary to cut off a slice of the old hostelry for the underground system, and the Astor estate decided to close up the place entirely.

You had all heard of it, you outside the metropolis as well as those who hurried in and hurried out of the big metropolis today including the man who stood behind his stool for ten minutes waiting in rather fidgety fashion for the seat, after I had ordered a dish of hot rice pudding when the twelfth oyster had vanished forever from the shell. When the Astor House closes sine die three days from today, many will sing the valedictory of the famous house, and wax sentimental over the list of presidents and justices of the supreme court, and editors and writers and financiers and sea captains and diplomats who did their sojourn or their campaigning or their dicker or maybe just their eating there—not to mention the late King Edward, then Prince of Wales, and the Grand Duke Alexis of Russia, both of whose names appear on the old registers.

But all that is beside the point. There are those to whom the closing of the Astor House will mean a complete revolution of the scheme of existence. There are today men in Wall Street and that vicinity who have never eaten a business luncheon anywhere else since they were kiddies in knickerbockers. Some of the "heavy" men of the street began to frequent the Astor House when, as office boys, they were sent there to get the luncheons of their employers, the dead-and-gone brokers of yesterday.

If this were the worst of the pathetic story, it would not be so bad, but there are the employees of the familiar old place. Waiters, porters and other attaches of the hotel have been there for a generation—some of them have never worked anywhere else. When the doors close for the last time on Thursday these men will go out. They are all old in the service, but the Astor House is all they know. It has been home to them for twenty thirty—forty years, and they will feel like travelers in a strange land when they start out to find new places of employment. The Astor had a style all its own, vastly different from the modern New York restaurant and hotel, and the men who have devoted their lives to the old place naturally feel a difference in facing the world from some other corner of vantage. And all the waiters there have not been like Paul, who has made $100,000 out of his tips.

The passing of the Astor House on Thursday will bring a touch of wistful sadness perhaps, to more hearts than could the closing of any other similar institution in all the greater city.

There are those who say pretty little Miss September Morning is a suffragette. At any rate the little maid stood her ground, wearing sunshine and a smile, despite Anthony Comstock, until she could, with dignity, retire to her own free will and accord. Miss September Morning, to be brief, has just succeeded in putting one over on Anthony Comstock. The lovely nymph held forth in the window of a Forty-sixth street art dealer near the corner of Fifth avenue, and she saw the suffragette parade a few weeks ago. No doubt it is there she got her stubbornness and perseverance.

"Out in Chicago 'Bath House John' Coughlin, the famous alderman, put the lid on Miss September Morning for good and all by an ordinance forbidding her exhibition unless she hid her pretense loveliness in conventional attire. In New York, Anthony Comstock is not an alderman, but he wears a badge which gives him authority to say what New Yorkers should and should not look at in the way of art. He took one look at Paul Chaba's wonderful painting, 'A September Morning,' blushed furiously and ordered it out of the window unless some shades of night were painted over it. A clerk obeyed the order but a few hours later, Miss September Morning was back in the window, increasing her number of admirers. She stayed in the window the usual length of time the art dealer permits pictures to stay there and then modestly went back to the dealer's galleries to await a purchaser.

The uplift is spreading. Everybody's doing it. They are now going to save Broadway. Merchants along the crooked road immortalized by George Cohan have formed an association to improve "our main street." What they're going to do no one knows and no one cares. All the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't change Broadway.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

SUIT BROUGHT ON HIS BOND

County Goes to Court to Get Excess Cost of West Fifth Street Bridge

Orange county is plaintiff in a suit brought to recover the cost of building the West Fifth street bridge in excess of the contractor's price. The complaint, filed by District Attorney L. A. West and Attorneys Williams & Rutan, names R. L. Hogue, the contractor, and the Guardian Casualty & Guaranty Co. as defendants. On Aug. 6, 1912, Hogue was awarded a contract to build the concrete bridge for $18,250. He gave a $4587.50 surety bond with the Guardian company, calling to do the work, the county made other arrangements, with the result that the bridge cost $29,325.28, the structure said to be well worth the money. Judgment is asked on two counts, one $4587.50, the amount of the bond, and the other $11,075.28, the excess cost over the contract price.

Meaningless

"Your father called me a timber wolf. What did he mean by that?" "Oh, that's just one of pa's political expressions. He used to live out west, you know, and nothing ever pleased him so much as to shoot a timber wolf before breakfast. Of course he didn't mean anything by it."

Our Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Representative Thomas of Kentucky, the other day was engaged in that pleasant occupation entitled "Playing Tether Side." He had just labelled Minority Leader Mann, "the bewhiskered gent from Illinois." He had accused Mann of "rattling around, spouting mixed metaphors and vapid innuendoes," and the house, always ready to laugh, was convulsed with laughter. Representative Hardy, of Texas, during a momentary pause, touched the orator on the sleeve and whispered earnestly to him. Thomas nodded, reached in his hip pocket and pulled out a plug of "chawin'," which he passed over. Hardy took a generous bite and passed it back. Thomas took a long, doleful slant at the piece which remained, slipped it deftly into his cheek, rotated it into place and resumed. "Now, Mr. Chairman, take the gentleman from Kansas, who sports the sun-kissed locks—", but the roars of laughter made him stop.

These are bad days for United States Senators who formerly were satisfied to uphold their own and the dignity of that august body without any too frequent association with such annoying things as constituents. Also they are preparing to take an active part in the congressional campaign work which heretofore has largely been done by the representatives who were compelled to depend on the people for their jobs and not to members of the various state legislatures. The senators are now in
